

2014 Pinot Grigio
Pinot Grigio 100%
Adelaide Hills 100%

Wine Analysis
Winemaker: Greg Clack
Bottled: October 2014
Alcohol: 11.3%
Acid: 6.6 g/L
pH: 3.14
Residual Sugar: 5.2g/L
Sulphur: 99 mg/L

In the Vineyard

Selected from a single vineyard in the northern Adelaide Hills in the sub region of Gumeracha. Balanced vines with North South orientation on a steep slope allow good fruit exposure resulting in the expression of strong varietal fruit with good acid structure.

Winery

The grapes were hand harvested and tipped directly into the press. A gently pressing cycle was used to preserve the delicate and unique characters typical of Pinot Grigio. 5% was put to French oak for barrel fermentation and then blended with the tank for light lees contact to promote a slightly textured palate with good weight.

In the Glass

Colour

Brilliant clarity with pale golden straw and a slight green and copper hue.

Bouquet

Intensely aromatic, very fresh fruit driven nose exhibiting Nashi pear, nectarine, tropical rockmelon and honeydew, white peach with hints of passionfruit, citrus notes and subtle florals with underlying almond notes.

Palate

The palate has good fruit intensity with trueness of fruit displaying crisp pear and nectarine notes and sun ripened peach.

Subtle almond and savoury notes are well integrated in the background. Well rounded body with great minerality and drive of natural acid. Subtle textural notes from the oak and aromatic tannins give complexity and length to the lifted fruit finish which has great length and intensity.

A perfect accompaniment to freshly shucked oysters, shellfish, white fleshed fish or equally suited to a lazy afternoon in the sun.

Chain of Ponds

The Amelia's Letter Story

James Caust, the Chain of Ponds blacksmith and wheelwright, visited Cornwall after the death of his wife in 1882. On the journey he wrote a beautiful letter to his youngest daughter, Amelia. It highlighted the isolation of the South Australian colony, the strong links back to their Cornish heritage and the extreme challenges faced with sea travel in the early years.

AMELIA'S LETTER PINOT GRIGIO 2014

